About The Meeting

This seminar is designed to provide a practical review of current topics in gastrointestinal pathology. Dr. Elizabeth Montgomery will discuss basic to advanced topics, pitfalls and pearls to gastrointestinal pathology diagnosis. Topics will range from iatrogenic pathology to polyps throughout the gastrointestinal tract to mesenchymal lesions.

Target Audience

This CME activity is primarily intended and designed to educate pathologists.

Scientific Sponsor

Educational Symposia

Accreditation

Physicians: Educational Symposia is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Educational Symposia designates this live activity for a maximum of 12.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Educational Objectives

Attendees should, at the completion of this course, be able to:

- Be familiar with the range of iatrogenic forms of injury to the gastrointestinal tract.
- Be aware of pitfalls in interpreting endoscopic resection samples, especially from the esophagus.
- Recognize, assess and diagnose gastric polyps, dysplasia and their clinical correlations.
- Address various types of neoplastic and non-neoplastic small intestinal pathology.
- Recognize various unusual forms of gastric carcinoma.
- Be aware of various types of colitis.
- Recognize various types of syndromic and sporadic polyps of the colorectum.
- Recognize several pitfalls in immunolabeling of various types of gastrointestinal tract lesions.
- More accurately recognize and evaluate gastrointestinal mesenchymal lesions.
- Understand the importance of location within the layers of the gastrointestinal tissues to better classify various tumor types.

No special educational preparation is required for this CME activity.

Course Organization

This program is planned and organized by Educational Symposia, the leader in continuing medical education since 1975.
